

WHITE PLAINS RAIDS NET 33 ARRESTS

30 Held in Jail as Witnesses and 3 Charged With Keeping Gambling Places.

CITY PURE, SAYS MAYOR

Last Gambling Place Wiped Out, He Declares After Confiscations.

White Plains is an absolutely pure city this morning, so far as gambling is concerned. That is upon the word of Mayor Frederick E. Weeks, who announced, after three alleged poolrooms were raided simultaneously yesterday afternoon by deputy sheriffs and assistant district attorneys, that "the last gambling place in White Plains has been wiped out."

The raids, Mayor Weeks said, were made upon information which had been accumulating for several weeks. They were conducted by Sheriff George Werner and Lee Parsons Davis, District Attorney, with a large corps of assistants. For nearly an hour the streets of White Plains were lined with excited citizens who watched the passage of patrol wagons carrying prisoners and evidence to the Mayor's office.

Three arrests were made and thirty were held as witnesses. More than a hundred customers, who were gathered in cafes in the rear of the places where the suspected gambling operations were going on, became greatly aroused when the raiders entered, but nobody offered to fight and the raiders themselves found it unnecessary to show their weapons. Telephones were ripped out and racing charts confiscated.

The proprietors of the places were charged with maintaining gambling establishments. They were John Welsh of 13 Grove street, Harold Gordon of South Lexington avenue and John O'Connor, proprietor of the West End Cafe in Central avenue. They were held by Mayor Weeks in $1,000 bail each and the thirty witnesses in bail ranging as high as $1,000. The charges will be heard in police court Tuesday.

GIRL SUES W. T. PRATT.

A breach of promise action for $50,000 was begun yesterday in the Supreme Court against William T. Pratt, real estate operator, of 49 South Columbus avenue, Mount Vernon, by Miss Agnes Miller of Chicago. He promised to marry her early this year, but has evaded setting a date, she alleges. The promise was made last October, according to her complaint, and in January she gave up a lucrative position as assistant secretary-treasurer of the Chicago Club in order to prepare a trousseau.

B. R. T. SUBWAY TIED UP BY CAR JUMPING TRACK

Shuttle Service Through Tunnel 45 Minutes.

The first car of a Fourth avenue local subway train bound for Manhattan jumped the tracks at 9:35 o'clock last night a short distance west of the Deland avenue station, Brooklyn, and traffic over the track was tied up for forty-five minutes.

Passengers in the first car walked back to the station and entered another train. Trains were sent over Manhattan Bridge instead of through the tunnel. Temporary shuttle service was conducted in the tunnel between Court street, Brooklyn, and Canal street, Manhattan.

FALLS DEAD IN SYNAGOGUE.

Elderly Man Believed to Be Rabbi Named Popkin.

Just before services commenced yesterday in the synagogue of Bnai Jacob, at 136 Prospect avenue, Brooklyn, an elderly man walked up the aisle, removed his overcoat and suddenly toppled over dead. The man's death prevented the holding of services in the synagogue, and they were held in the vestry room of the building instead.

Through letters found in his pocket, the dead man is believed to be a rabbi named Popkin, said to be a sort of itinerant preacher, whose home was in Manhattan.
